

Coaching/Leadership Research

3-31-23: Culturally Relevant Leadership in Mathematics Education an NCSM Essential Action Series book. This book explores how leaders can "ensure each and every learner experiences meaningful and relevant mathematics" (p.13). It provides concrete examples and tools to reach this goal. I have not used any of the tools yet in my own coaching practice, but they seem like they will be helpful in developing more culturally relevant teaching practices at my school.

1-26-23: Onward: Cultivating Emotional Resilience in Educators by Elena Aguilar. This is an educator self-help book providing concrete steps (e.g., craft positive stories, meditation techniques, etc...) towards preventing burnout. This book was written pre-Covid, but its strategies seem more important than ever.